If you have absent friends who are interested in the lower Rio Grande Valley, send them a copy of the Weekly Herald. It gives all the news of the valley, and keeps its readers posted on the development here.

It has been impossible so far to ascertain the names of the delegates that were elected at the republican primary conventions held Saturday to attend the republican county convention, which will be held in this city on Saturday, Aug. 1, all names not yet being reported.

The committee that was appointed to solicit members for the Lower Rio Grande Valley Commercial Club reports a number of new names secured and the promise of others.
Those who have signed so far are as follows: A. A. Browne, E. C. Forto, L. K. Morris, W. H. Putegnat, Henry Verhelle, Burt E. Hinkley, Lowry and Coleman, Frank Rabb, Dr. Fred J.

The Rockport baseball team will arrive Friday night to play a series of three games with the local team Saturday evening, Sunday morning and Sunday afternoon. At each of these games a good crowd is expected as both teams are strong. The Rockport aggregation having defeated the Corpus Christi team last week, will no doubt give the local fans a fine exhibition of the national sport.

Among recent investors who will locate in the Brownsville vicinity are ana Co-operative Canal near East Brownsville, a few miles below Brownsville, and will return later to develop the land and make their home here, bringing their families from Indiana. They are all very favorably impressed with this section, and will do their best to promote its development.
